

Hello everyone! Oh, my goodness did March fly by or what? I can feel warmer days coming faster and faster. I cannot wait to be outside reading or listening to a good book.

If any of you guys love to listen to audiobooks, we can sign you up for the Libby app on your phone, iPad, or kindle that way you can listen or even check out books to read if you can't get down here on the days that I am open. If you have a CD player in your tractor or that you take with you out in the garage, I do have some of the audio books on CDs available here as well.

As summer approaches I am looking into more reading programs. We do have the Lego guy coming the 10th of July at 10 am. I will be putting out flyers to remind everyone to come join him at his Lego workshop. Come and see all of his amazing Lego he has built. I can't wait to see all the wonderful Lego talents that our kids have. I am sure everyone will be impressed!

What have I been reading? Honestly this is hard to answer because I am reading/listening to a lot of books. Sarah J Maas series "A Court of Thorns and Roses". "The Host" by Stephanie Meyer yes, the same one that wrote Twilight series. This one isn't a series, but it is a good read because it talks about like a different life form that has taken over Earth. There is a resistant of humans trying to fight back to take back Earth. You follow Wanderer into her host body, Melanie Stryder. She is fighting to take back her own body from Wanderer and subconsciously leads Wanderer back to her community and where her one true love resides. They both try to figure out how the humans can take back Earth and send the Host that has taken over the human race back to a different planet. Have I piqued your interest? Come pick up the book and find out what happens to Wanderer and Melanie.

Thank you, guys, for everything! I appreciate it!
