

Oh, happy June everyone! Hope everyone is having a wonderful start of the summer, don't forget to wear sunscreen!

The summer reading program is a go! We will be starting June 26th at 11 A.M. There will be cookies and lemonade provided for a snack. There is going to be a lot of painting and crafting, so parents please send your kids with clothes that is ok to get paint on. This is going to be a 6-week program, and I even have some fun things for teen and adults. If you would like to help out, I am very happy to have any help. Even if it is donating the cookies for that day!

The Lego Guy is coming in July on the 10th; he will be here at 10 A.M to show kids the history of Legos as well as show his collection off and to have kids build some things out of his Legos he brings. I am so excited to see who all comes and what they create.

The Froid Book club will be meeting on the 25th of June at 11 am here at the library. The new book that they will be reading is "The Personal Librarian" by Marie Benedict.

What have I been reading? So, I am reading like 3 different books, and it is so hard to even pick one to talk about. So, I'll give you my honest opinion about all three that I am reading. First the Bridgerton series by Julia Quinn. If you are looking for a fun quirky romance based out of the 1800's, pick this series up. I love how this made me laugh out loud and fall in love with the characters. The second is Crave series by Tracey Wolff. So, this book series is just a fun fantasy book. it has so many different characters. Vampires, werewolves, dragons, witches, and gargoyles because why not write about all of them that are co-existing. It is full of twist and turns that surprise me, but I thoroughly enjoy it. And the third is called the Hannah Swensen Mysteries. This is a fun little murder mystery series that is about 30 books long but a quick read. You follow Hannah who opened her own cookie shop in her hometown of Lake Eden, Minesota. She seems to be able to help solve murders that are happening around her town. While she is doing this, she is also trying to avoid her mom trying to set her up with every eligible bachelor in town. But it is ok, she has her pet cat Moishe to help her keep her sane.

Thank you so much for all your support! I can't wait to see how much fun we are going to have this summer!
