

Happy May everyone! My goodness how time is just flying by. School is almost out, and graduation. Congratulations to our seniors! I know the whole town is proud of each and every one of you!

The library has gotten a Facebook page that I will be posting most of the news that is happening at the library thought-out the summer. Go and follow Froid Public Library to not miss out on all the news!

The Summer reading program is on its way! This year the program is called Color Our World! Once I have a date picked out, I will post it on Facebook. Parents this will be a really messy fun time, and I am so excited to see all the art that is going to be at this program.

Don't forget to mark your Calanders for Thursday July 10th at 10 A.M the Lego guy will be coming and telling us about the history of Legos and letting the kids build anything their imagination can dream up! And if you miss him here at the Froid library he will also be down at Culbertson!

And now for my favorite question. What have I been reading? I picked out Crave by Tracey Wolff and it was an interesting read for sure. It is a blend of Twilight and Harry Potter. The main character name is Grace Foster; her parents died in a car accident. She is sent to live with her uncle and cousin in Fairbanks, Alaska, where her uncle is dean of a boarding school called Katmere Academy. This is a huge adjustment for Grace because she goes from sunny San Diego to oh my cold Alaska, but it isn't just the cold that Grace is going to have to adjust to. The students are very interesting to say the least, always staring at her and making her feel as if she is missing something. One student catches Grace eye, Jaxon Vega, he is the most popular boy in school that doesn't pay attention to anyone. Something about Grace draws him to her. Why is everyone acting so weird about her being here? Come check it out and find out!
