

November Bookbeat

Bookbeat

Froid Public Library

Pie Social: The Froid Friends of the Library Pie Social held on October 13th was a success this year earning over $500 for the Froid Library. These funds support various programs in our library such as our summer reading program for children. The support that the community gives the pie social is an echo of the support that it gives to the library throughout the year and is truly appreciated. Thank you to the ladies who helped serve: Gloria Luft, Carmen Lockman, Rosanne Elvsaa, Gloria Mason and Joyce Harvey. Also many, many thanks to all the ladies who baked pies!!!

1000 Books Before Kindergarten: Finn Hoffman has reached 900 books. Almost there! When he reaches 1000 books he'll get a gift certificate from Barnes and Noble. If you have a preschooler who isn't signed up for this free program come in and ask about it.

Hopa Mountain: We have received our fall round of books from Hopa Mountain. These are very nice board books and are free to any preschooler to take home and keep! If you have a preschool child or grandchild who lives in the Froid area come in and get them a free book.

Pageturners: We are reading, Here Lies the Librarian by Richard Peck. (hmmm!) After we finish this book we will be taking a short break for the holidays and will begin a new book in January. That would be a great time to join us.

We have added National Geographic for Kids to our magazine selection. This fun, informative and colorful magazine can be checked out as with any other magazine.

Keep Reading, Live Longer by Alex Wroblewski of the New York Times
Reading books is tied to a longer life, according to a new report in Social Science & Medicine. The study of 3,635 people over age 50 found that compared with those who did not read books, those who read for up to three and a half hours a week were 17% less likely to die over the 12 years of follow-up, and those who read more than that were 23% less likely to die. Book readers lived an average of almost two years longer than those who did not read at all.

Froid Weekly: Thank you to Ellen Britton who has donated the funds necessary to purchase a third archival file to match those we have and which could be stacked on top of the existing ones. The file has been ordered and should be here in November. I have also purchased archival folders for the Weeklies and cotton gloves for handling delicate items such as the Froid Tribunes. I am asking that you please hang onto your Froid Weekly's until the file arrives and I can get them arranged in chronological order and see if there are any we are missing.

Froid Library Hours: 11:00 to 5:00 Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday
